Around the clock with saddles and sox

THE CHIEF OF 1946-47

presented by the Annual Staff of Greenville High School, Greenville, Ohio

Saddles are nationally recognized as the mark of the teenager because their scuffed, careless appearance may best express the carefree feeling of young people.

Looking more closely, we find by taking those shoes apart—down to the last nail—a sort of comparison between school life of a young person and those shoes he loves so well. In doing this we also find, for all the casual love of fun expressed, that the foundation for citizenship built through the school years is done so not without labor.

So - - -

Take the strings for instance. Just as you've seen how shoes are held together by the laces, we'll show you how school spirit is entwined about the students until they are firmly bound together in a friendship which is shown by the various clubs and organizations of school life.

While a pair of saddles has about 20 eyes, a student has only two. It's those eyes, however, that provide a young person with his biggest means of learning. With them he reads great books, studies famous old paintings and views Mother Nature in her school of the great out of doors.

The tongue in a shoe would be sorely missed if it were not included. So would it be a very serious loss if humans had no tongues with which to express their ideas to others. Neither could they benefit from other people's thoughts. It is through this exchange of thoughts that many great ideas have been born.

Then, too, a shoe has a "soul." It is with the sole as a foundation that a shoe is built. Let's call the underlying principle upon which a school is built, school spirit. Just as a good sole makes a good shoe so does good school spirit make a good high school.

The arch in a shoe provides comfort and ease for the wearer. So does a good basic education acquired in high school make for an easier and happier life. Our high school is for many of us the bridge between adolescence and adulthood.

A tiny shoe nail is only one of the things that go to make up a well built shoe. Though small, it plays a very important role in the shoe construction. Many things go to make up a well rounded student. He needs recreation, study, civic interest, social interest, and leadership for a happy school life.

FOREWORD

It is the goal of the Staff of the 1947 "Chief" to give to you, the Students of G.H.S., a yearbook by which in years to come you may review all the events and activities of the past school years. Therefore, we shall take you "Around the Clock with Saddles and Sox."

As we see them every day

It is through the help of the faculty members that the students form habits of good citizenship, which follow through life, long after graduation day.

And this particular person--

In appreciation of his aid, guidance, thoughtfulness, and encouragement, we wish to dedicate the "Chief" of 1947 to our advisor and friend, Mr. Phelps.

Board of Education paves the way

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Greenville Board of Education is composed of five members whose duty it is to supervise the care and maintenance of the schools of Greenville.

Included in the numerous tasks are the administrative duties of the school, the selection of teachers and the planning of courses. These men function as a unit, always working in the school's behalf and considering the interests of the students. Through the efforts of this Board, the high standards of Greenville's schools are maintained.

MR. BAILEY

Mr. Bailey has been connected with the Public Schools of Greenville for the past 29 years. After teaching science two years in Greenville High School, he was made principal, and a few years later, superintendent of the Greenville Public School system. Mr. Bailey received his Bachelor of Science degree from Otterbein College and his Master of Arts degree from Miami University.

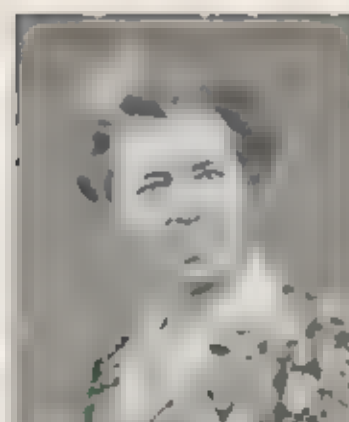

MR. WARNER

Mr. Warner, who has been Principal of Greenville High School for the past eighteen years, received his Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University in 1918. In 1931 he received a Master of Arts degree from Miami University. Before his appointment as principal, Mr. Warner taught academic subjects in the high school for nine years.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

At the end of the year the senior class elected its officers. The officers were Dick Clark, president; Robert Brown, secretary; Howard Fitch, treasurer; and Betty Brown, reporter.

The highlight of the year was the class party, "The Bum's Rush."

In 1943 the first Senior Handbook was produced. The staff was composed of five members. The primary purpose of the handbook was to help new students become acquainted with the school.

The officers of the sophomore year were Bob Green, president; Jean Taylor, vice president; and Betty Brown, secretary. Other members of the staff were Dick Clark, treasurer, and Howard Fitch, reporter.

"The Bum's Rush" was our class party that year.

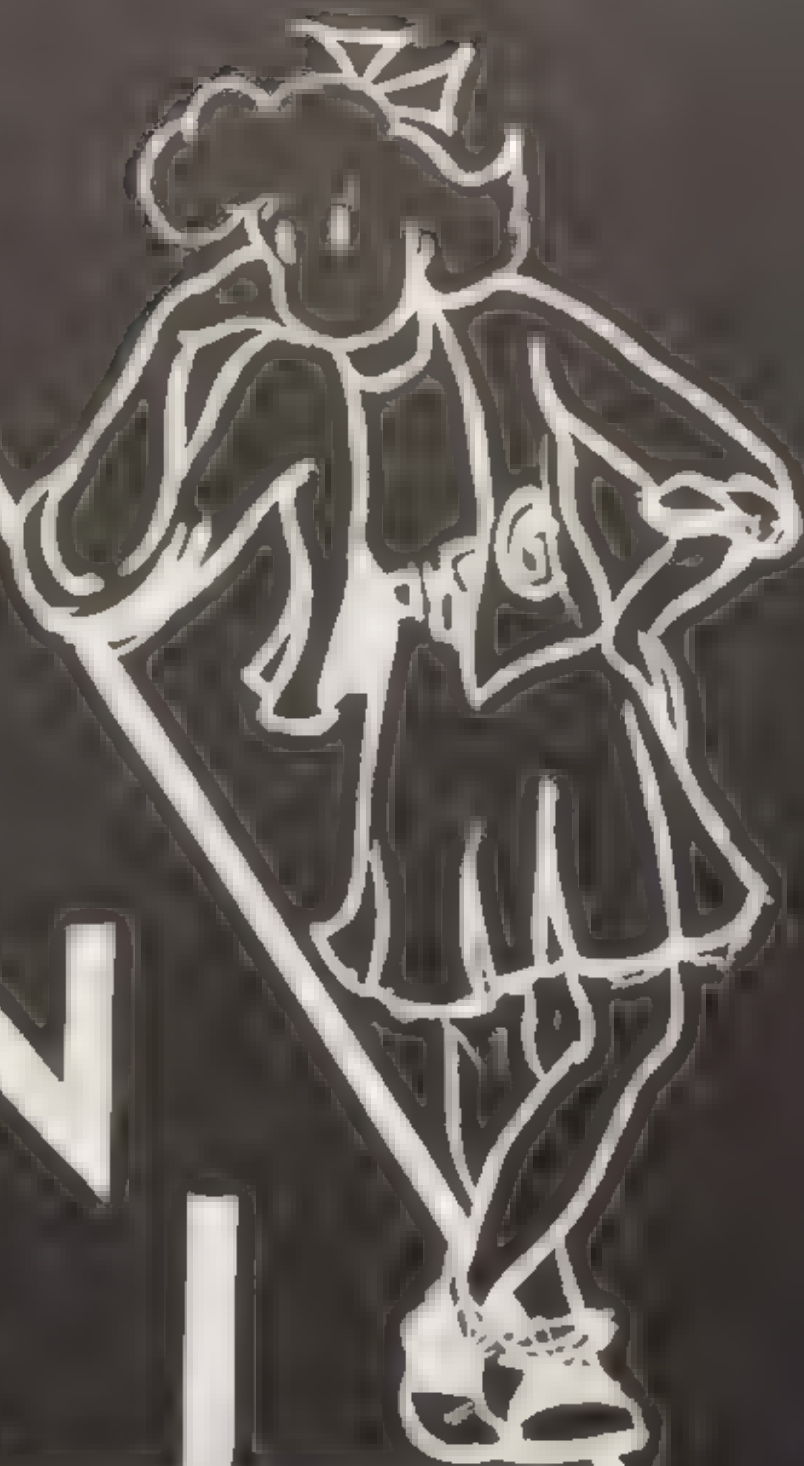

At the end of the year the Junior class elected its officers. The results were Dick Clark, president; Betty Brown, secretary; Howard Fitch, treasurer; and Robert Brown, reporter. Activities of the Junior class were the senior picnic and the class play, "Every Family Has One," directed by Miss Brown, English teacher.

Now we are seniors. The captain that guided us through the year was Dick Clark, president; and Stark, vice president. George Brown was secretary, Anne C. Fitch, treasurer, and Bob Green, reporter. Big things in the senior year were putting out the annual, the magazine drive, and the senior class play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Mr. Corle, senior English teacher.

JUNIOR CLASS

In 1944, the members of the Junior Class entered G.H.S. as Freshmen.

The Cherry Frolic, the class party, was the big event that year. The officers were as follows: Dick Faulkner, president; Ned Rhoades, vice-president; Jo Ann Sharp, secretary; Phyllis Miller, treasurer; and Pat O'Brien, reporter. Miss Alexander was the class sponsor.

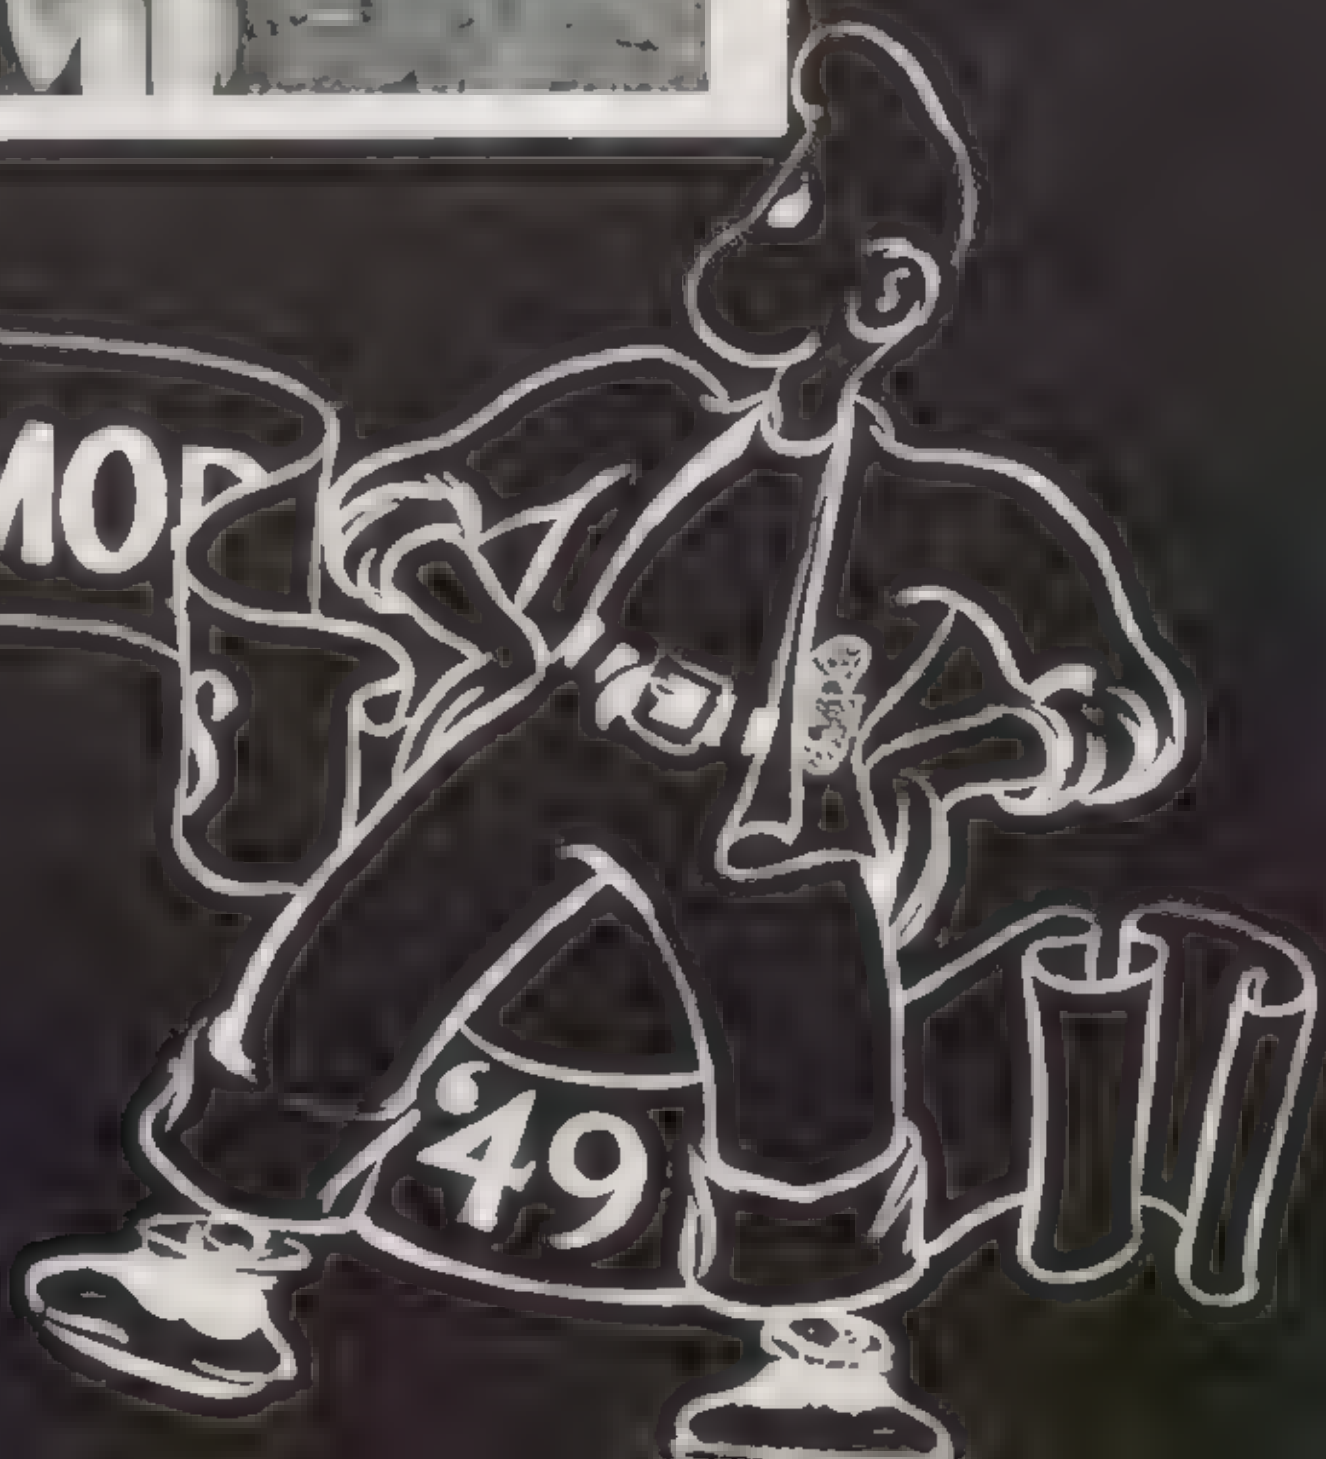

The next year, the class found itself with another class beneath it, and did its best to make the Freshmen realize their lowly position.

The sophomore year, the class officers: Harvey Dunlap, president; Charles Rentz, vice-president; Joan Baker, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Corie, reporter, helped plan the "Jitterbug Jive," the class party. Mr. Stoltz was class advisor.

Marlene Sprue was elected president for the year 1946-1947. Those to assist her were Charles Rentz, vice-president; Jo Ann Sharp, secretary; Shirley Stebbins, treasurer; and Ted Grote, reporter. The highlights of the junior year were the Junior-Senior Prom and the Junior Class Play. Mr. Raudabaugh was class advisor this year.

Although there are only 113 members of the class of '49, the sophomores hope that their class will be one of the mightiest ever to tread the halls of GHS.

In keeping with becoming freshmen, they too endured the tortures and fun of initiation. They looked forward all the way to the coming year when they would have their fun.

At the beginning of the freshmen year, elections were held with the following students being chosen officers for the coming year: President, Bill Hale; Vice President, Dick Canon; Secretary, Sissorne Murphy; Treasurer, Jim Gray; and Reporter, Jean Bayman. Miss Alexander was the advisor.

A party named "Forty-Niners Festival" was attended by a large percentage of the class. Also, several English contests were held to benefit the class its freshman year. Later in the year, several members presented a radio skit to the student body.

At the beginning of their second year in high school, the sophomores chose for their class officers: Bill Hale, President; Ed Whitmore, Vice President; Rita Ottman, Secretary; Treasurer, Jean Bayman; Reporter, Mr. Stoltz was chosen the class advisor.

Many members of this class have taken part in scholastic, musical, theatrical, and athletic activities.

During the year of '46-'47 the sophomores held a party in March, and a contest was held to decide the name of this party.

JUNIOR HIGH

Members of Junior High School were very excited on September 3 as they signed their enrollment cards. For some it was the first time they had ever been inside G.H.S.

The eighth grade of 1946-1947 had been the first class to organize as seventh graders. The officers chosen were Gretchen Spidel, president; James Strackley, vice-president; Irene Beatty, secretary; Mary Jo Bayman, treasurer; and Dick Goodrich, reporter. That year the class sold Frazer Wilson's book "Around the Corner Fire" to raise money.

The seventh grade of 1946-1947 was the first year set by the present eighth graders and a number of others. The perpetuity committee were Mike Randa, president; John Maxwell, vice-president; Jim Kees, secretary; Barbara Hitt, treasurer; and Sondra McVay, reporter.

An important event in Junior High School is the annual singing contest sponsored by station W H C. Presently, contestants are chosen from the seventh and eighth grade are chosen to represent G.H.S.

QUILL AND SCROLL

January, 1946, marked the beginning of the Quill and Scroll Society at Greenville High School. Although a charter was granted by the national organization, The Quill and Scroll Society, the organization is not yet a part of the national organization. The purpose of this organization is to recognize individual achievement in journalism and allied fields.

Requests for membership in the Quill and Scroll Society as well as the student must be recommended by the student body, the faculty, the principal, and must be approved by the executive secretary of the society.

The first meeting of the Quill and Scroll Society, a charter meeting, was held at Greenville High School, January, 1946.

USHERS

The group of ushers is made up of the thirteen girls having the highest scholastic standing in their class at the end of their junior year of high school.

The ushers show people to their reserved seats for plays, concerts, and other functions held in the Memorial Hall.

These girls begin their work as ushers by serving at Banquets and Commencement exercises. They continue serving at all functions through the following year until the new ushers replace them.

Boys composed the first group of ushers, but was discontinued in 1912. However girls were given this honor in the following years.

Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens Club is one of the active girls clubs of the school. It is a branch of the Y W C A organized for the teen age high school girls and is a sister club to the Hi-Y.

The purpose of the Y-Teen Club is to aid the community and school and to try to prepare the girls for going out into the world and doing their best in life.

The club has meetings every fourth Thursday of the month and also has evening parties. This year it sponsored an ice cream social and several other social gatherings for the high school. It also did social work at Christmas time.

This year's officers are as follows: Betty Brown, President; Gloria Huddle, Vice-President; Joan Frankman, Secretary; Joan Baker, Treasurer; Nancy Boll, Reporter; Lorna Crawford, Service Chairman; Gloria Shiverdecker, Social Chairman; Nancy Nealeigh, Publicity Chairman; Jean Staley, Music Chairman; Grace Fowble, Program Chairman. SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club founded in 1918, is the largest club of the school. Any student who is studying second year Spanish or who has completed it may become a member. After graduation the member may attend the club this year after year.

During this school year a part of the club money was obtained from state tax stamps. These funds were used to buy the Spanish conversation course on phonograph records, the same course used by the Army during the war.

The club held its annual banquet the first night of December. A menu consisting of food from Spanish speaking countries was served.

When the school year is reaching a close the club makes plans for a picnic, which takes place in the last week of May.

LATIN SOCIETY

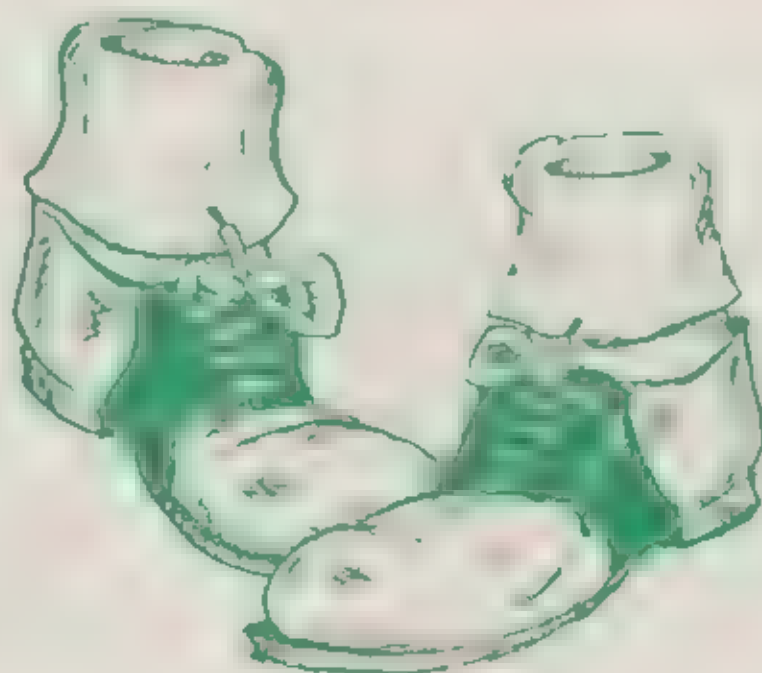

Societas Latina Latin Society was re-organized in 1945 after a lapse of eleven years and the present club is endeavoring to maintain the tradition of the original organization. Its purposes are to encourage scholarship, to stimulate an interest in cultural studies and to endeavor to arouse in its members a realization of the debt modern civilization owes to Greece and Rome.

Membership is open to all students who have successfully completed one full year of Latin prior to the opening of the school year.

In addition to its regular monthly meeting, the club plans for at least two social events including its annual Cena Romana Dinner in observance of Ohio Latin Week.

FUTURE FARMERS

The Future Farmers Association is composed of only the students enrolled in vocational agriculture and is sponsored by the present agriculture teacher, Mr. Glunt.

Some of the projects completed this year were a scrap drive, the annual rabbit supper, and the organization of a basketball team. There were several parties scheduled throughout the year.

The Future Farmers, not only of Greenville, but also of all over the country, now have a junior fair board each year.

Present year cabinet members are: President, Richard Cox; Vice-President, Kenneth McClure; Secretary, Don Riegler; Treasurer, Don Lehman; Reporter, Richard Schafer; Sentinel, Walter Neal.

At the very end of the year was the band test given at Central which was attended by bands from many different schools. For this test two passenger busses were chartered and the band members thoroughly enjoyed the excursion.

John Brumbrich was elected president of the band this year. The other officers were as follows: Neil Kennard, Mark Drake, Carmel Cannon, Donald Turner, Connie Monks and Jim Hershey.

The practice of awarding Gs to the band members who had earned them was again followed this year.

The girls' chorus participates in the concert, directed by the music department each year. At the program, the girls perform and also present a play, skit or dance to the audience.

The girls' chorus also participates in other community activities, often singing the part for which their own voice range is best suited.

Smaller groups often appear in school and community functions.

A CAPELLA

To be a member of the A Capella choir must have certain qualifications, such as: Interest in music, a good voice, a desire to learn, and a desire to sing, and a desire to learn the highest type of music.

Boys and girls in this choir are selected from the high school choruses. The choir is directed by Miss Elizabeth Hill.

This organization participates in many musical events such as Christmas and Easter programs, the annual school assembly, and class assemblies. The choir also performs at many other school and community functions.

Members of the choir assemble each home room period.

ORCHESTRA

The Green Mountain orchestra provides an opportunity for music students to explore the field of stringed music in a great many aspects.

The orchestra which is supervised by Mr. Dwight Brown was composed this year of approximately 25 students who met three times weekly for practice.

In the orchestra library is to be found some of the world's finest compositions for string. The orchestra takes part in the annual formal concert and provides music at the class plays.

HONORARY DRAMATICS SOCIETY

The purpose of the Honorary Dramatic Society is to stimulate an interest in dramatics.

Membership in the society is attained by taking part in a three act play, and serves as a reward for those students who have done outstanding work in dramatics. It is a goal which students strive to attain. There are no activities connected with membership in this organization; it is strictly honorary.

A Date With Lady, the annual play, Love Your Neighbor, the Junior play, and Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, the Senior play were the plays presented at Greenville High School this year.

Through participation in all types of dramatic presentations, students develop an appreciation of the effort and work required in the presentation of a stage play.

STAGE CREW

Don Christian, Jack E. [unclear], [unclear], Dick Faulkner, [unclear], [unclear] and Dick [unclear] compose our excellent stage crew. Few people realize the amount of effort that goes into this work. The crew has to be present at all programs given in the Memorial Hall. Their duties include setting up the scenery, making and putting equipment and doing the many other things necessary for such occasions.

Hooray for

Overall, it is to be seen that the Ray, Swann had a very successful and consistent year with the horses and that he was there riding up during the past season.

names played the Green Wave throughout the season but never dampened the spirit or fight of our boys. Bob Wing, one of the leading players on the team, suffered a fractured collar bone early in the season and because of this injury was unable to play on the squad. He served as assistant to Coach Swope.

A year ago the "Wave" played its last game against the "Locals" and lost 12-0. The "Wave" played perfectly its last game against the "Locals" and lost 12-0. The locals were one of three teams to score in the game.

During the game was the prime time for the "Wave" to show its sportsman-ship and a friendly game was played. Twelve seniors will be lost from the "Wave" but a group of juniors and sophomores will provide the "Wave" for next year.

Coach Swenson is proud of the "Wave" for its accomplishments of the football team in 1944.

Students have voice in athletic affairs

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Athletic Board of Control of Greenville high school is composed of the athletic coaches, the principal of the high school, the faculty manager of athletics, a junior and a senior boy representative, and a senior girl who acts as secretary. Student representatives are selected by the student body.

The board governs the athletic policies of the school, sets the admission prices to athletic contests, pays athletic bills, purchases equipment and approves the awarding of letters to boys who have earned them through participation in sports.

Team hits high goal

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Green Valley basketball successfully ended the season by posting a record of thirteen victories and four defeats, including the championship, in the Mammoth Valley league standings the Green Wave tied for second place.

Starting the season right, the Wave breezed through seven consecutive victories with little opposition. Farley High dropped the Wave (2-0) in a hard fought league contest. Winning the next three league games, Green Valley met Fairmont for the MVL crown. The game was hard fought throughout with Fairmont winning 55-45.

GOLF

Four boys composed the golf team this year. Only one had played before in Miami Valley competition.

Jack Seiler was the only returning letterman, with Bill, Bob Miller, and Jay Diller making up the rest of the team.

The boys enjoy playing the game in high school but also look forward to playing it in later life.

TENNIS

The tennis team has been very successful this year. They have won many matches and are looking forward to next year. The team is made up of several players who are all very talented. They have been practicing hard and are ready for the upcoming season. The coach is very proud of them and hopes they will continue to do well.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's corps of cheerleaders was one of the best groups in the Miami Valley League. Miss Sellers was the sponsor.

The group was co-captained by Gloria S. Anderson and Kay Lephart and Regina Letner, their squad.

The cheerleaders attended to their duties at the games where they and Greenville students organized cheer.

G.A.A.

The purpose of the Girl's Athletic Association is to develop interest in all forms of athletics in which the school participates. The organization aims to foster good sportsmanship and athletic ability on the part of its members, and to encourage each one to show an interest in her personal appearance.

Membership in the organization is open to any girl in the school who is interested in sports. In order to retain her membership each girl must earn a designated number of points in the activities in which she participates. These sports may include badminton, basketball, tennis, shuffle board, roller skating, swimming, golf, and archery in all of which instruction is offered.

The usual awards are numerals and letters. For outstanding achievement a cup, with the girl's name engraved on it is awarded.

The club participates in a variety of activities. Each year during the football season, the girls operate the refreshment stand at the stadium. This year the special activities consisted of a formal Student Ball, a Halloween party, an Abstract dance, Coronation of Mr. and Miss G.H.S. of 1947, basketball tournaments, a style show, a formal banquet and awards meeting.

Officers of the club are as follows: president, Kathryn Goodrich; first vice president, Helen Dickey; second vice president, Charmie Oltman; secretary, Mary Swabb; treasurer, Doris Falknor; reporter, Pat Todd; student chairman, Rita Oltman; chairman, Barbara Albright; entertainment chairman, Freda May; and chairman of publicity, chairman, Mary Swabb and chairman, Mary Swabb.
